You long ago heard of the enormous sums paid for three small pieces of furniture which formerly belonged to Marie Antoinette—namely, $76,250. This furniture was no doubt fine and rare, but the reason why it brought so much money was that it was supposed to have been much used by Marie Antoinette. I do not know whether it occurred to the persons who bought it to reflect a little upon the date stamped upon each piece—1790, 1791, 1792. The eminent maker, Riesener, doubtless was at work
